Assistant™

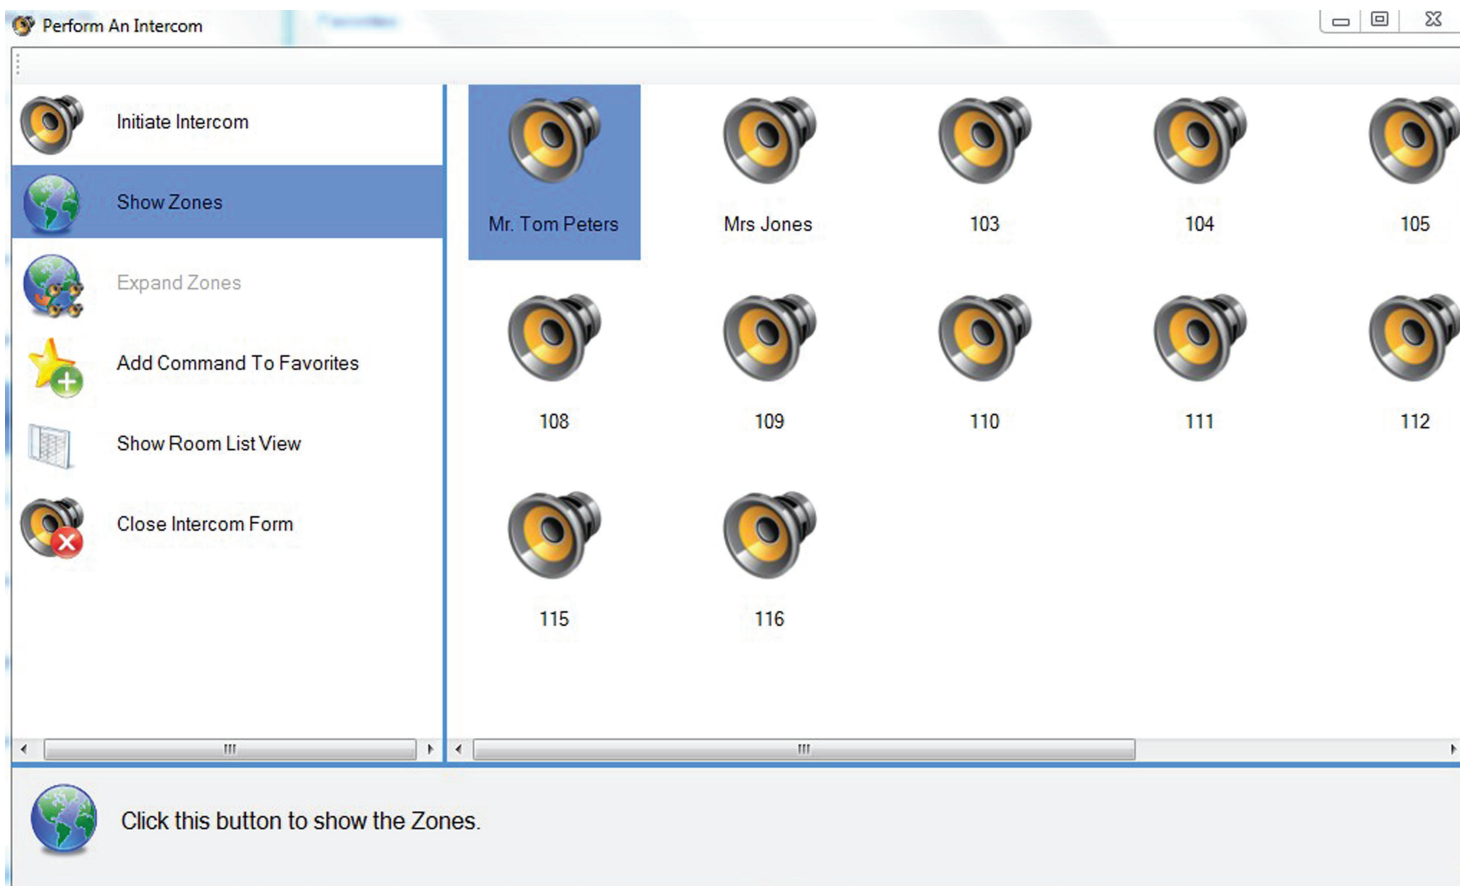

Dukane Assistant™ is a GUI-based admin phone interface for the CH1000 Security Communications System. Assistant™ runs on any Windows® based PC and is associated with a telephone connected to the CH1000. This associated telephone can be as simple as a single line set or an extension off of a local PBX/IPBX. The user simply initiates functions with a click of the mouse and picks up the phone to speak. Call-ins are graphically annunciated along with the caller ID information. Routine functions can be saved as a favorite onto the main screen to simplify access for individual users.

Zones on the fly can be created using Assistant™. Users can create a page zone on the fly and save it as a favorite thus extending the available 64 zones to unlimited zones. No need to remember room numbers. Using the graphical room icons allows for users to find locations with complicated hard to remember room numbers easily.
